

WAREHOUSE OF IDEAS 7. semester

-Complexity and Connections, Sense and Sensation

The task for this semester was to create a new school-building for Arkitektskolen Aarhus. A building that would connect with the exhibition-building, providing studios and functions for about 300 students.

The building would be situated in a parking-lot, almost hidden from view from Nørreport. The context is housing, a bank and ofcourse the school of architecture.

Sketch of concept

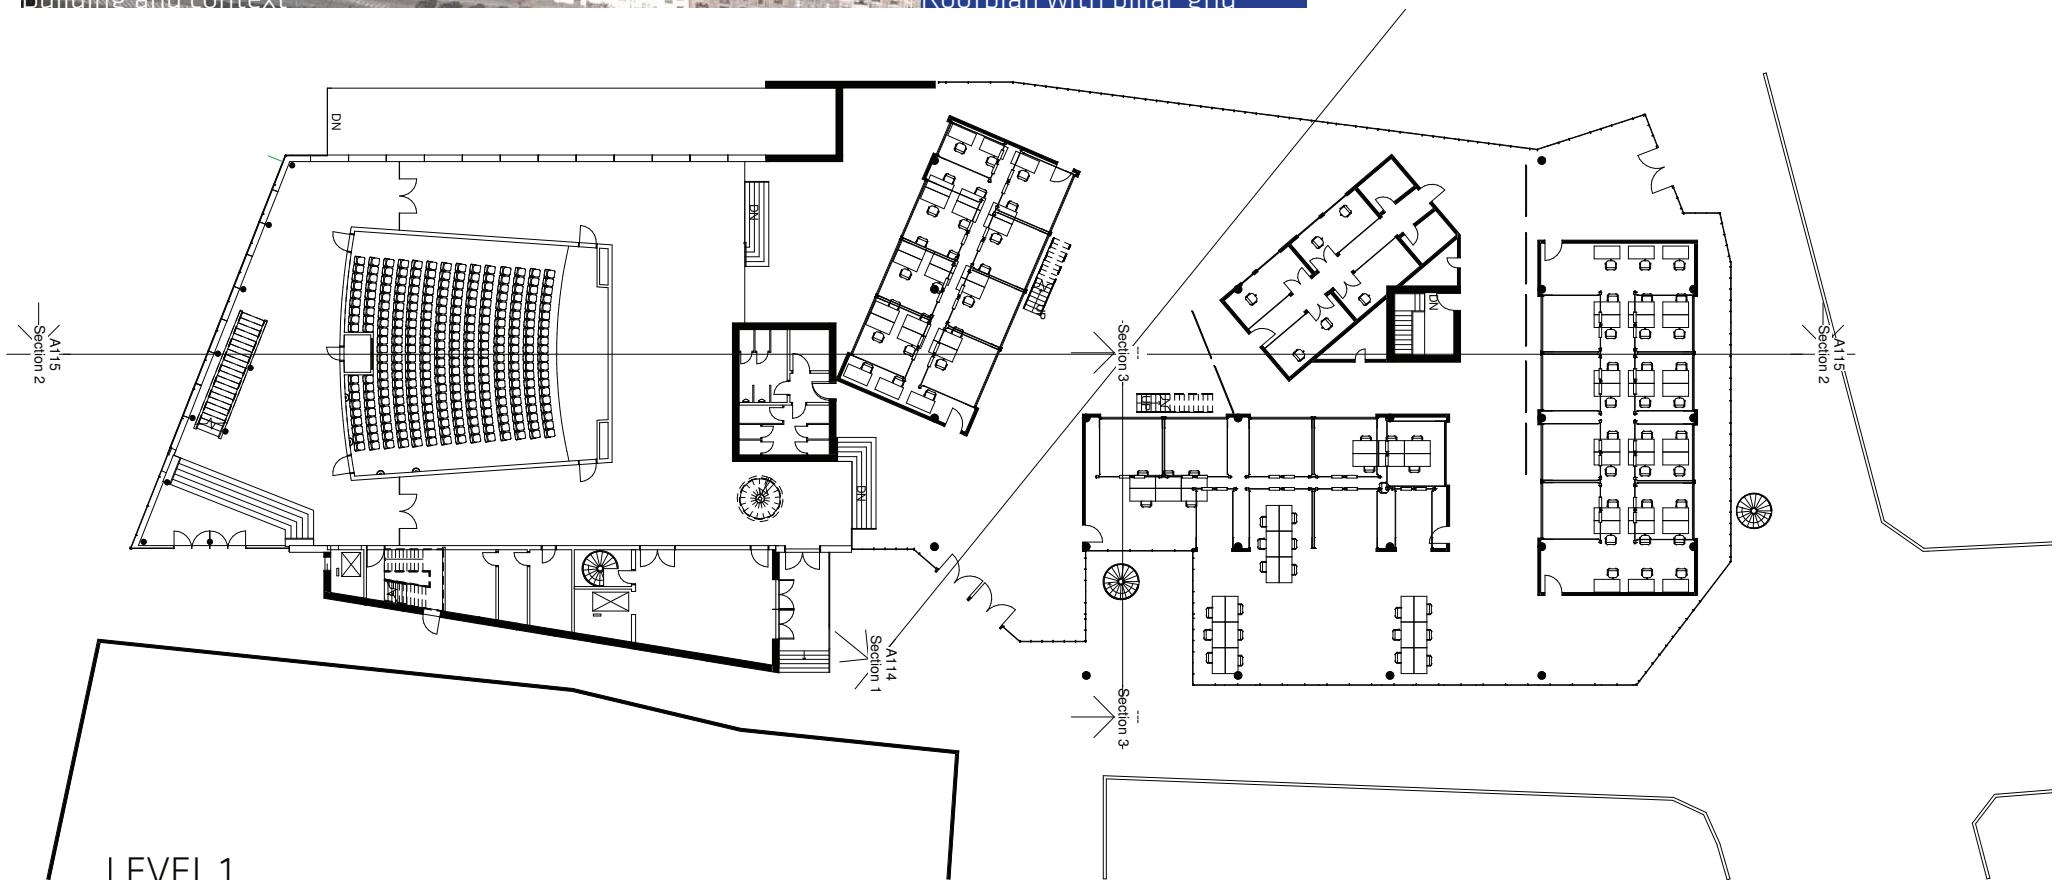

Spread over 4 stories, including parking in the basement, the building would engage with a site which sits inbetween juxtapositions of housing-principles, filling up a site that has only had one prior building on it,

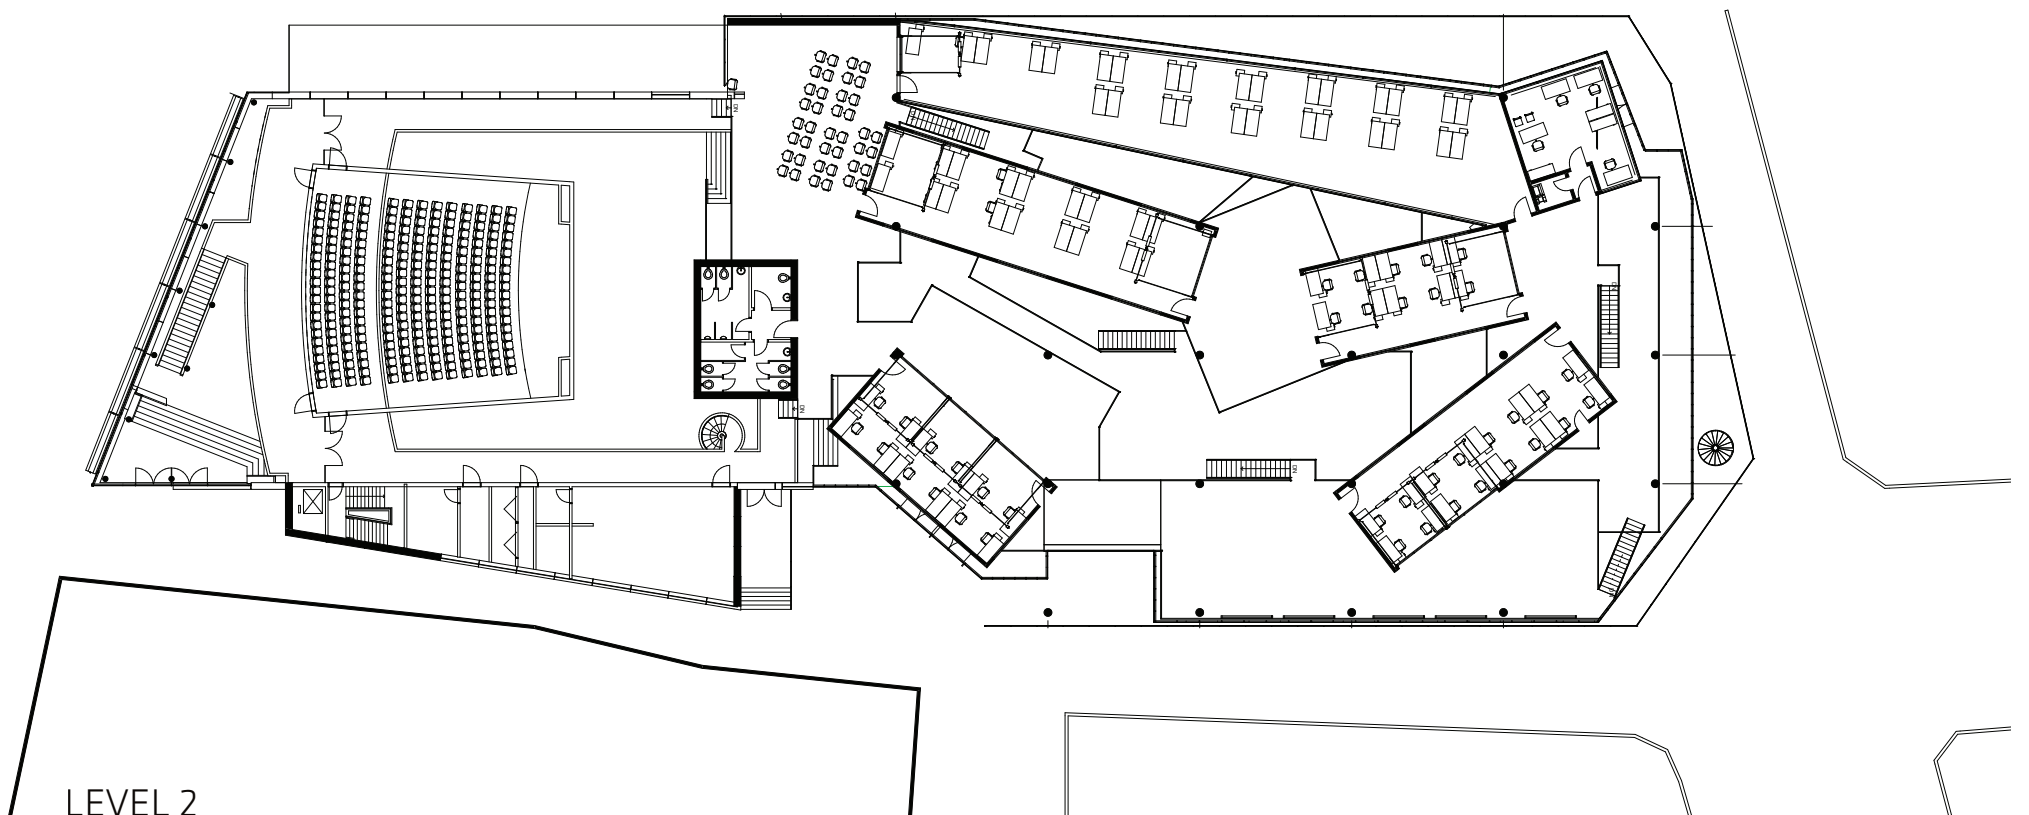

Building and context

Roofplan with pillar-grid

I saw this assignment as a way to bring something new spatially and functionally to the school. When the school locks up at 4 or 3 in the afternoon, there are no places, save for the studios, where students can meet socially. Instead of having walking areas that only connect closed rooms with one another, I thought of having nothing but in-between space in the building. A buildig defined by visually connected spaces, with spaces for withdrawal and for study, for meetings and parties, a places that connects the students in a new way. The building should be able to hold all ofthe functions that now are spread around the school: Party-space, Model-workshops, offices for the teachers, exhibition-spaces and all of the in-between activities.

LEVEL 1

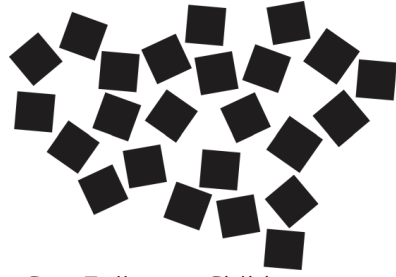

LEVEL 2

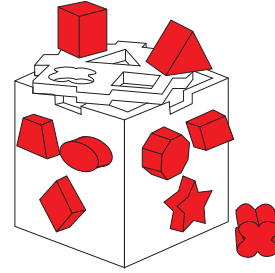

The building is an attempt to link the mystical connectivity of loose spaces, expressed by Sou Fujimotos Childrens psychiatry Center, and the random purposefulness of the sorting box, into a building with the complexity, mutability and openness of both

Spatial perception

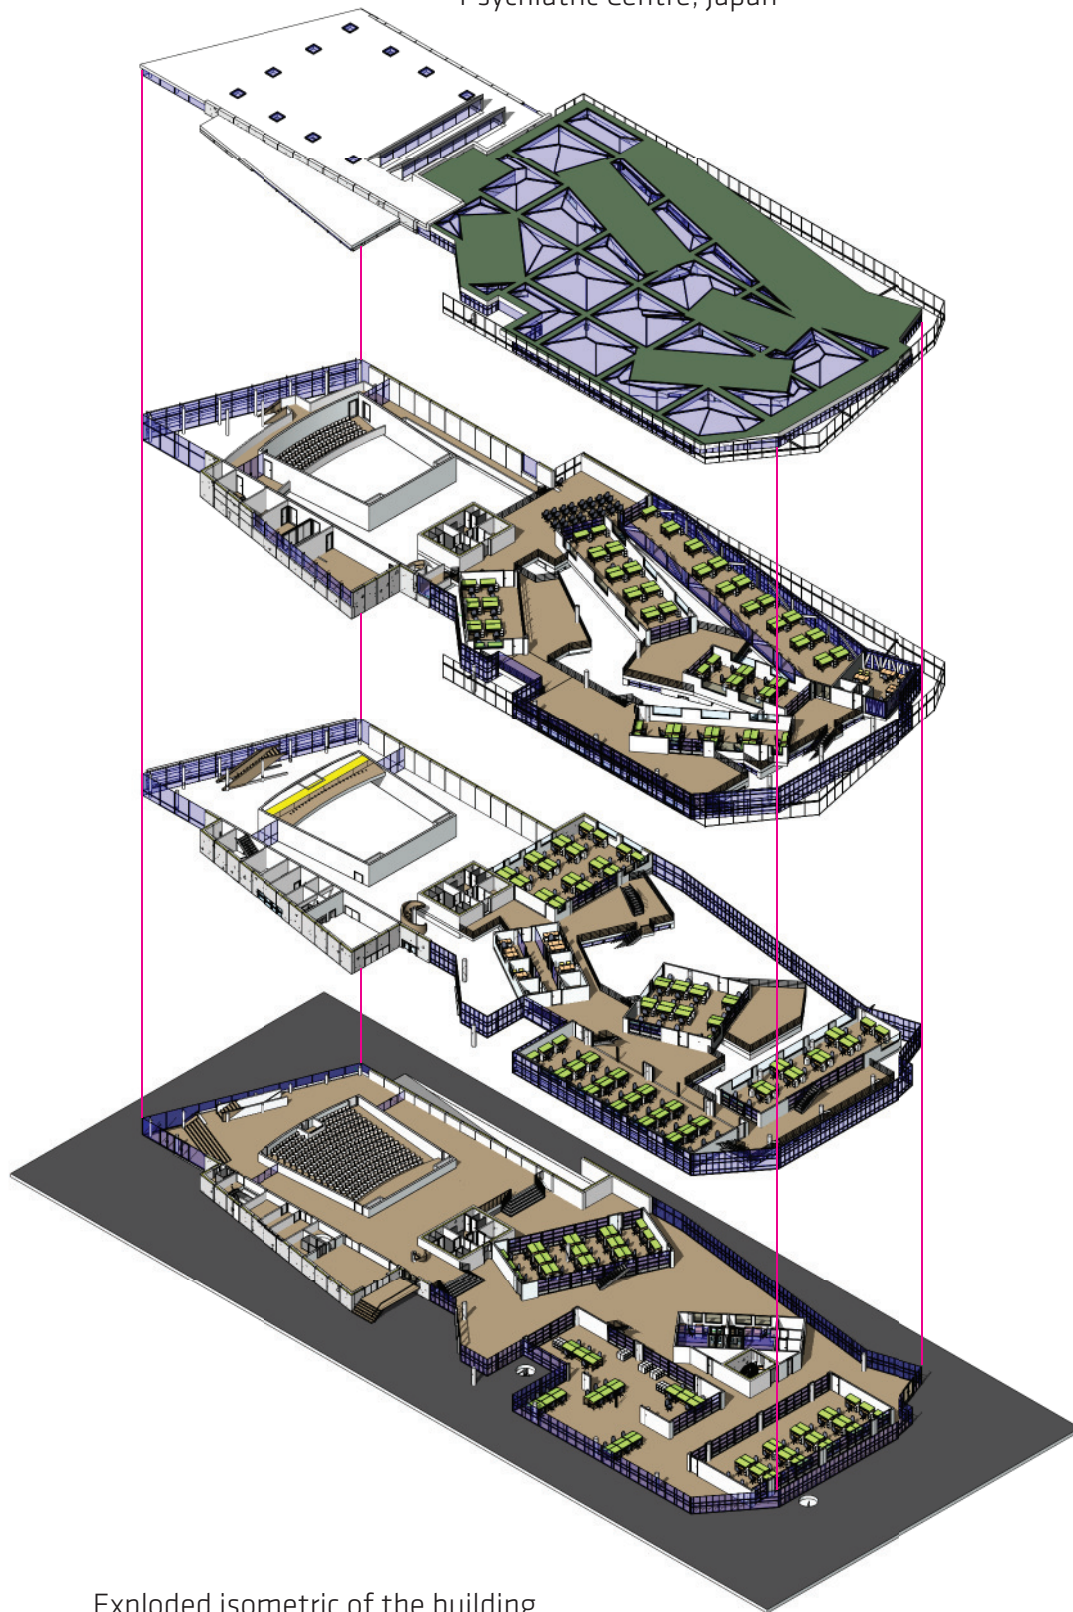

- Dynamic
- Movement
- Sequence of occurrences
- Dissolved
- Porous
- Flaneurised

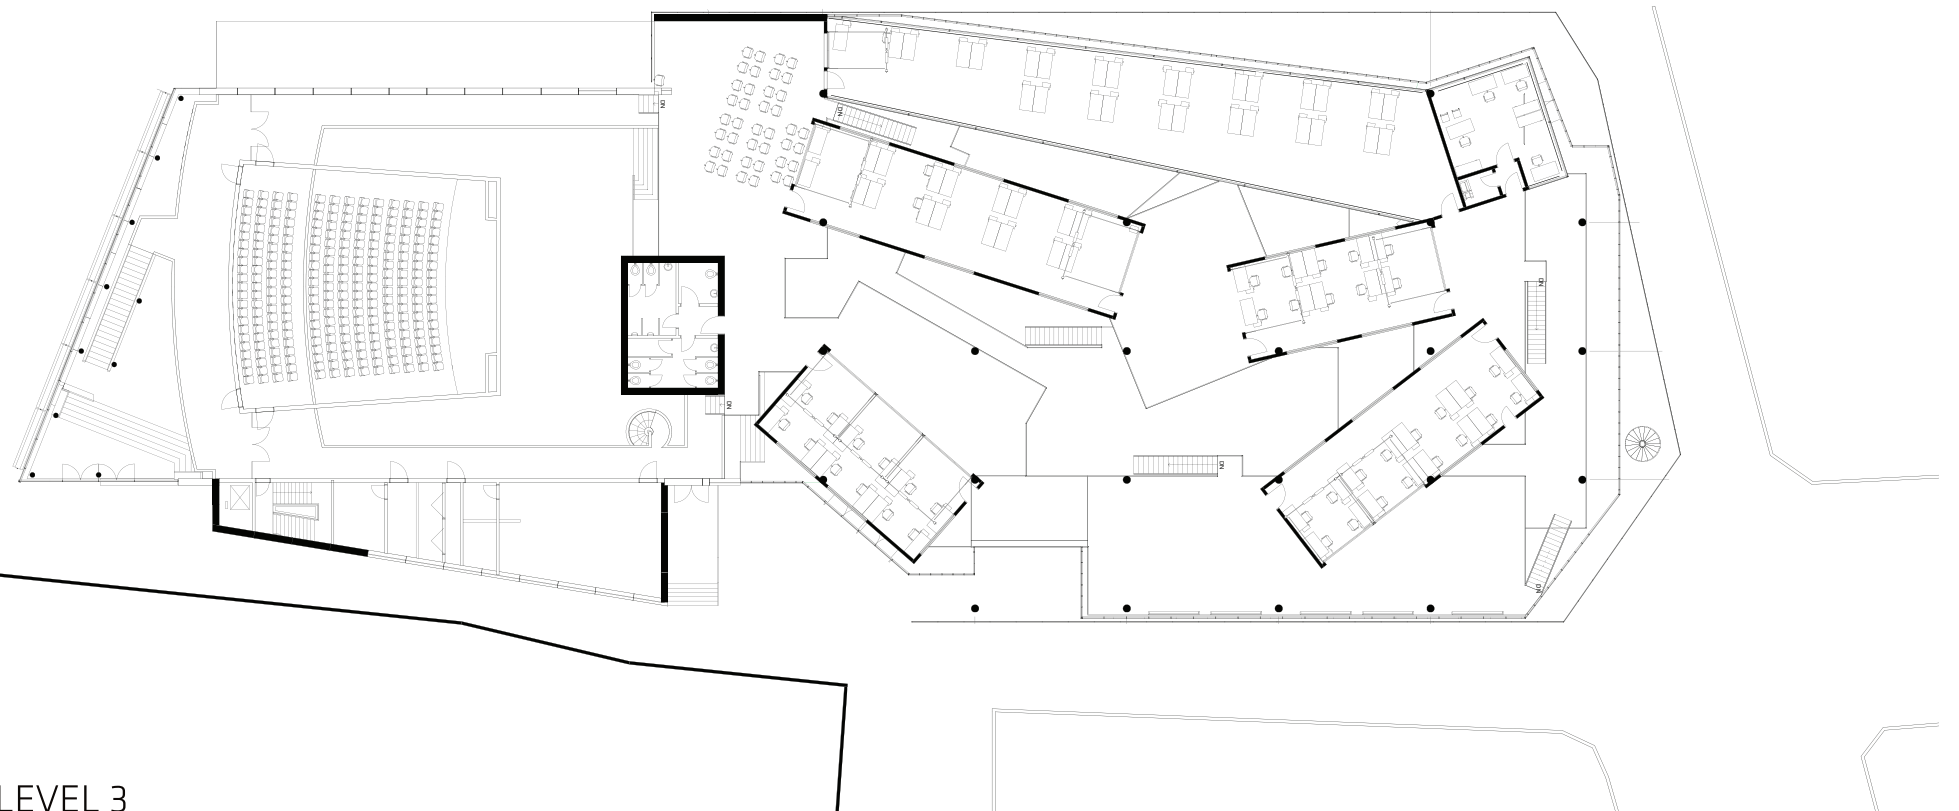

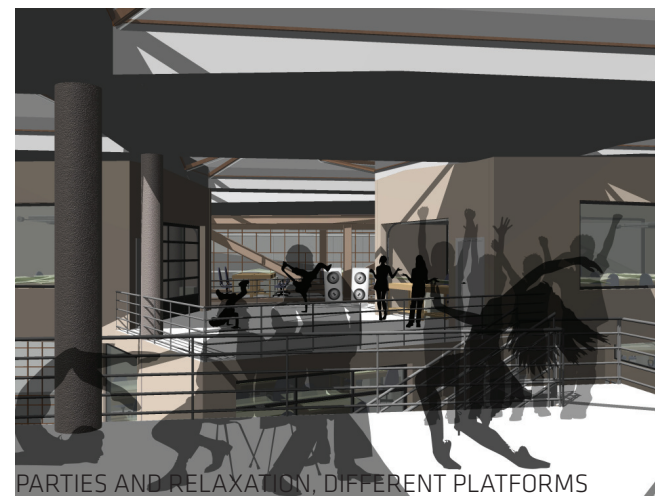

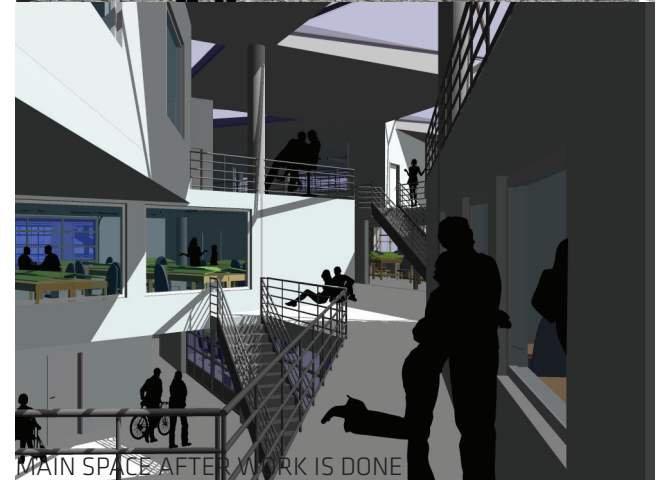

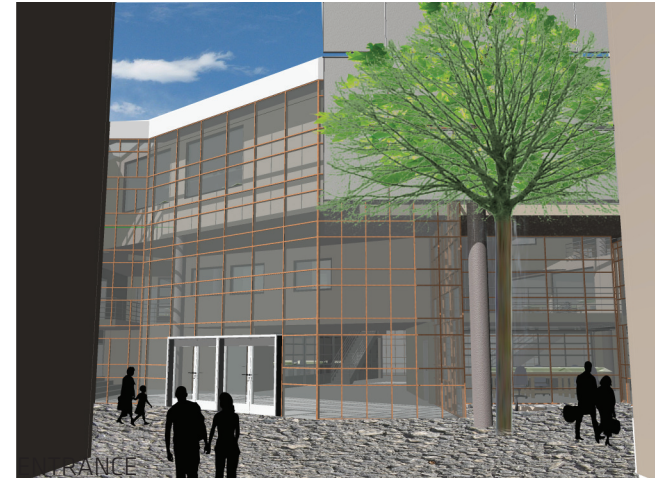

Sou Fujimoto Childrens Psychiatric Centre, Japan

Sorting box

Exploded isometric of the building

LEVEL 3